Protect Pacific Salmon FOREVER

A planned giving legacy from your estate helps with conservation and enhancement of Pacific salmon for generations to come.

OUR STORY

Since 1981 Powell River Salmon Society (PRSS) has worked towards continued excellence in protection and enhancement of Pacific salmon in the Salish Sea. Approximately 2 million salmon fry are released annually with the assistance of 120 volunteers working over 10,000 hours.

With an emphasis on innovation, community involvement and hands-on watershed management, PRSS has established itself as a cornerstone environmental organization on the BC coast.

An extension of the PRSS, the Salmon Preservation Fund (SPF) is designed to generate and manage assets that contribute to the future sustainability of the Powell River hatchery, as well as other efforts to restore and protect the health of Pacific salmon.

We are grateful to have received generous donations of land and funds in the past and are asking for your support by considering the PRSS in your financial and estate planning. Your gift stays in the community and goes to assist in the valuable work the society does.

THE CIRCLE OF LIFE: LEGACY OPTIONS

In nature, the end of one life cycle is the beginning of another. The rebirth of spring arrives even after the coldest winters and the Pacific salmon always return to their birth place to spawn and provide nutrients for the world around them.

Legacy giving can be customized to anyone's circumstances and should be reviewed with your professional advisors and family. Some ways of giving include:

- A one-time bequest or monthly donation
- A beneficiary of a RRSP or RRIF
- Life insurance beneficiary
- Stocks, bonds and appreciated assets
- A percentage of your estate

BENEFITS

With advance planning tax savings can be over 50% of your legacy gift. Some include:

- Capital gains exemptions
- Federal and Provincial tax incentives
- Probate reductions
- Knowing you are helping preserve salmon for future generations.
